I am a computer engineering student with a focus on getting things done. I have basic knowledge of HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and Python, along with some knowledge about computer hardware. As a Class Representative, I have shown my leadership skills and ability to communicate and organize effectively. I have successfully developed projects, including an Anime Website, and I am currently working on a personal portfolio website. I am always eager to learn and innovate, and I'm ready to use my technical skills and strong people skills in a dynamic work environment.
